

Medical Physicist - Radiotherapy Unit in Azores (M/F)

Become a member on a Radiotherapy unit in Azores, as a Medical Physicist.

Reporting to the Medical Physics Department Manager, you will be responsible to assist the Doctor about the best Radiotherapeutics treatment, and to assure the rightful treatment planning. You will calibrate and evaluate the equipment performance. You will provide the certification to the recommended dosage prescribed by the Medic, providing the maximization of the therapy success in the healing process, and the minimization of the patient's collateral damages. You will perform radiometric assessment and survey, develop procedures to ensure the radiation protection and safety, and will conduct clinical research in support of projects and the evaluation of new technologies.

We are looking for a Professional with a degree in Physics, with a specialization in Medical-Physics, holding the professional certificate for the activity exercise. The experience in radiotherapy is highly valued, however it will not be an eliminatory factor.

You will have the opportunity to become a member of a robust Health Group, committed to innovation and high levels of excellence.
