

CONFERENCES

13th BGIICC 2021

21-22 January 2021, Cairo, Egypt

Welcome to the BGIICC 2021 the 13th Breast- Gynecological & Immunooncology International Cancer Conference, the largest and most prestigious cancer conference in Africa and the Middle East. We invite you to attend the rich content lectures and participate in the workshops and courses. The conference will be held from 21 -22 January 2021 in Cairo: www.bgicc.net

We are making concerted efforts to build very strong multidisciplinary, clinical and translational research for the Middle East and Africa in an attempt to educate young doctors and medical staff and develop up to date guidelines.

At the 2021 conference, we aim to set a new bar and reach the future with our continuous efforts in “Challenging the impossible”, by holding multidisciplinary sessions, workshops as well as some consensus sessions. These will ultimately bring focus on the main points of debate. There is no doubt that your participation in these discussions will help us fulfil our aim.

We look forward to meeting you at the conference.
